Marshall sets sights on Murray Bridge

State Liberal Leader Steven Marshall will meet with local businesses, industry stakeholders and local residents during an upcoming visit to Murray Bridge.

Liberal Member for Hammond Adrian Pederick is hosting Mr Marshall during the visit which includes meeting with the Rural City of Murray Bridge Council, Thomas Foods International and the Murray Bridge Racing Club.

“I’m looking forward to meeting with the local Murray Bridge community and listening to issues of concern for regional South Australians,” said Mr Marshall.

“For over 11 years, Murray Bridge has suffered under a Labor Government which has ignored the importance of agriculture and food production in South Australia.

“Regional communities are vital to the future of South Australia and it is important we continue to grow our regional economies.

“The State Liberals are committed to meeting with and listening to what South Australians want for their communities, which is in stark contrast to the Weatherill Labor Government that is disconnected from ordinary South Australians.”

Small business and primary production are high on the agenda for the State Liberals and will also be a focus of the visit.

“Small business owners and primary producers are doing it tough at the moment across the entire Hammond electorate and are looking forward to the opportunity to voice their concerns while Mr Marshall is in the region,” said Mr Pederick.

“The State Liberal team recognises the issues facing South Australians in the regions, such as the high cost of living, the high cost of doing business and the many regulatory burdens facing our farmers.

“South Australians deserve a Government with better priorities to get our State back on track and I look forward to continuing to work closely with Mr Marshall on issues that impact my electorate.”
