COMING SOON

Saturday, November 30:

Scots all over the world will not only be celebrating their national day on November 30, but also commemorating the 1953rd anniversary of the death of their patron saint, Andrew, who died on that day in AD60 at Patras, Greece.

On the day, members of the Strathalbyn Caledonian Society are coming to the coast. Join the festivities in the Mozambique Room at the Goolwa Hotel, at 6.30pm for 7pm.

A menu will be available on the night. You don't have to be Scottish, play the bagpipes or eat haggis, just come along and enjoy yourselves and perhaps learn a little more about the Scots and their rich heritage.

RSVP by Saturday, November 23 by calling 0417 843 326 or emailing Jupiter.6@bigpond.com.au
