

Rotarians enjoy celebrations

More than 60 Rotarians and guests celebrated 60 years of the Rotary Club of Murray Bridge at a dinner dance on Saturday night.

Rotary District Governor Wendy Gaborit and club president Jack Reddin recognised the service both current and past members had given to the community with the estimation that the Murray Bridge club had contributed $5 million to both local and national projects.

Guests were treated to a slideshow of the club's history.

Special guests included Member for Barker Tony Pasin, Member for Hammond Adrian Pederick, and Tharnam Thuraisingam.

Tharnam came to Australia from Malaysia in 1974 to study nursing as part of the Colombo plan, and was sponsored by the Rotary Club of Murray Bridge and hosted by Bruce Frazer and his wife Ruth.

Tharnam is also celebrating her 60th birthday and in gratitude for the support of her career she decided to mark the club's birthday with a donation of $2000.

The club added $1600 to the donation to purchase a new patient lifting device for the Murray Bridge hospital.

Sabine and Ron Jericho enjoyed a dance at the Rotary Club of Murray Bridge's 60th birthday celebrations.

At the Rotary Club of Murray Bridge's 60th birthday celebrations were Alicia and Stephen Walker.

Bala Thuraisingam, Jill Reddin, Tharnam Thuraisingam, Bruce and Ruth Frazer and Jack Reddin helped make the Rotary Club of Murray Bridge 60th birthday celebrations a success.

Karen Eckermann and Glenn O'Bryan join in the celebrations at the Rotary Club of Murray Bridge's 60th birthday.

Member for Barker Tony Pasin, Rotary District Governor Wendy Gaborit and Member for Hammond Adrian Pederick catch up at the Rotary celebrations.

Petrina Altmann, Jack Reddin and David Altmann have a chat at the Rotary Club of Murray Bridge's 60th birthday celebrations.
