Volunteer groups invited to share their news

Volunteer organisations that publish newsletters are being invited to join a new program that enables the sharing of information with other volunteer groups around SA.

Local MP Adrian Pederick said the program, managed by the Office for Volunteers, has just been launched under the name 'Community Newsletters Listing'.

'The new initiative is designed to enable community groups to swap and share their newsletter articles and promote their news, events and programs to a larger number of South Australian volunteers,' Mr Pederick said.

'Initially, newsletter editors will provide certain basic information about their organisation, which is then circulated to other member groups enabling sharing and swapping of its interests and activities.'

He said interested organisations can learn more about the program and join if they wish by visiting the Office's website at www.ofv.sa.gov.au/community\_newsletter.htm or by phoning them on 8463 4490.
